

NIKKI MANNO

INTERIOR DESIGNER

EDUCATION

Bachelor of Applied Science, Interior Design, Southern Illinois University

Nikki primarily interfaces with clients in the healthcare, commercial, and hospitality industries, preparing interior images to design these project types. Working closely with architects, engineers, and builders, she shapes interior spaces' look and function. Nikki also communicates regularly with textile and furniture representatives, ordering samples and requesting commercial-grade items, including lighting, furniture, wall finishes, flooring, and plumbing fixtures. Before joining Eckenhoff Saunders, she completed a design externship with one of the largest integrated design firms in the U.S., developing finishes for a 40,000 sf higher education facility.
