Registered Architect, Illinois

NCARB (Illinois)

Mark is a long-time member of the Eckenhoff Saunders team and has considerable expertise in the design and construction administration of multi-faceted, phased healthcare projects. He has a keen sensitivity for working with contractors, and user needs to keep projects moving forward. Mark specializes in long-term renovation and expansion projects for operating hospitals.

As project architect for the expansion of Evanston Hospital, Mark oversaw the design and construction of a 1,650-car parking garage and the development of the hospital's three-story atrium lobby. He also served as project architect for multiple ancillary spaces at the hospital, including the central registration area, the cafeteria, public safety offices, a new mammography suite, and a pre-admission testing center. He has completely modernized and expanded the Surgical Department at Highland Park Hospital for the past six years.
