ARCHITECTURAL DESIGNER

EDUCATION

Master of Architecture,
University of Illinois at Urbana-
Champaign

Bachelor of Science in Architectural
Studies, Southern Illinois University

Steffen joined Eckenhoff Saunders as an architectural designer in May 2019. He enjoys making a daily impact on someone's life by enhancing their experience within the built environment in a positive way. "Residential design sparked my interest in becoming an architect," says Steffen. During elementary school, I had a math project; the task was to determine how we, as individuals, wanted to spend one million dollars. I decided to design a house. I sketched floor plans to my "dream home" and started picking out furniture. Shortly after, I started going to open houses on Sunday afternoons in high school. Steffen works primarily in Eckenhoff Saunders education and healthcare market sectors.
